Vancouver, April 11 .- A definite announcement may be made in the next two or three weeks which will permanently remove the Pacific Great Eastern Kailway from its position as "the Government's only worry," according to Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Provincial Minister of Railways and Public Works.

Speaking at an executive meeting of Vancouver City Liberal Association at the headquarters of the association last night, Dr. Sutherland told his auditors negotiations were now being carried on which he hoped would result in a profitable arrangement, an announcement of which could be promised within the next few weeks, probably in two or three weeks, and which would allay all trouble so far as what he could describe as "the only worry which the Provincial Government had" was concerned.

MONEY RETURNED TO CHICAGO SENDS LOAN RATES UP

New York, April 11.—The higher money rates were admitted to be partly a reflection of the enormous amount of credit that was absorbed in the stock market last week. Owing to peculiarities of the tax laws of Illinois, banks and corporations of that state had found it expedient last week to transfer money to New York temporarily, and it is understood that at legst $50,000,000 was sent here ifon that quarter. Under the wild trading conditions that prevalled, the imoney readily found employment here. These funds, in fact, were partly responsible for the set that call money last week did not get above 5 per cent. Monday, when these funds were called back to Illinois, the effect was felt at once in the firmer tone in money. However, the principle cause of the higher rates was the monthly settlements, which were among the largest on record.

Headache

AN AILMENT THAT'S DEFIED CURE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

We know that cancer is our greatest nemy. It kills more people annually than war or automobiles.

Heart disease is on the increase to an alarming extent. Without quoting discouraging statistics it is enough to say that clinics all over are bending every effort to discover the cause, and every effort to discover the cause, and block if possible this malady that stands stark and threatening behind every citizen who calls America home. There are other things that occupy the research laboratories—tuberculosis, anaemia, various forms of colitis, com-plications of the alimentary tract and a thousand other things.

And I am sanguine enough to be-lieve that each and all of these men-aces to life and health will eventually be overcome by those earnest delvers who are devoting their lives to scien-tific research.

But I wonder if any scientist is go-ing in especially for that curse known, as "sick-headache."

ing in especially for that curse known.

as "sick-headsche".

Speaking from first-hand experience, there is little doubt in my mind that there is more suffering complexes and discouragements, and more inefficient work, as a result of sick-headache, than from any other single aliment that flesh is helr to.

Sometimes men and women are able to force themselves to go on working through it. More often not. The writer has lost oh an average of fromfifty to a hundred days a year for so many years that she cannot remember. And I know many people who lose more time than that:

Needless to say, most sufferes have tried everything. But there is little to try, as the best clinics in the country confess there is, so far, no cure for it, as the cause is as yet undetermined. Nervous? Disturbed metabolism? Poor digestion? Sluggish liver? Auto intoxication? Perhaps! Any or all of them. but nothing seems aure.

And in the meantime we go on. We bring families into the world and do what we can to support and "raise" them, keep up homes and carry on the world's work, never quite well, trying to be cheerful, no one understanding (except fellow, sufferers) and nothing or little done to relieve us because it is "only sick-headache."

"The Washington measure is decidedly drastic. It would prohibit fishing commercially with seines, traps or gill nets in any river in that state. In the Democratic primary, which was a drowsy affair in comparison with the strenuous Republican balloting, the names of Governor Al Smith of New York and Senator Reed of Missouri were written in by many Democratic desiring to give an expression to their presidential preference. The division between these two was so close that incomplete returns early to-day failed to show which had been favoral.

BRITAIN READS NEWS

London, April 11.—Chicago's primary election result was the big news of this country to-day.

The London atternoon papers played it up strongly with fiaring headlines such as "Rule of Big Bill Thompson at End" and "Schoolbook Foe of King George Pails in Election Struggle."

The papers make much of reports of one murder and rioting and what generally is captioned as "Chicago's Reign of Terror." This newspaper reaction showed obvious evidence of what was generally conceded to be intense public interest in the outcome of a campaign affecting a man who has been one of the most talked about and severely lampooned figures in United States political life by the British press and public.

INTERNATIONAL TIES OF SPORT

NEW YORK ADVICES TO-DAY CONtain the announcement that a scheme is being formulated to construct what is described as the "largest golf and country club in the world." Plans call for five eighteen-hole courses, four nine-hole courses, Itwenty tennis courts, three clubhouses including one of fourteen stories and 750 rooms-and a fully-equipped aviation field. It will be built upon Canadian soil across from the city of Buffalo and the cost is estimated at $10,000,000. The name of the organization will be The International Club of the Niagara Frontier Inc.

The promoters expect to attract a large membership of wealthy people; but it is proposed that the lists shall contain only a certain number from each city, for it is emphasized that a thoroughly cosmopolitan clientele is desired, and leaders in the enterprise hope to bring together golfers from divers regions by aeroplane. The well-known professional, Johnny Farrell, will be the mentor and exhibition player for the golf club: Vincent Richards and Mary K. Browne will be in charge of the tennis courts: Helen Wainwright, swimming and diving champion, will supervise the two swimming pools. The proposed location is between the towns of Bridgeburg and Chippewa.

A few days ago an American syndicate bought an island in Canada, opposite Richford, Vt., in order that a new and costly golf course about to be constructed there might have a legal "nineteenth hole." These enterprises, of course, will help to preserve the present cordial relations which exist between this Dominion and the United States and, with Canada as an interpreter, they also should strengthen the friendship which exists between the neighboring republic and the British Empire as a whole. Sport is a great leveller, and as long as two peoples can enjoy themselves together on the playing fields, there is little danger of any serious dispute arising between

AVIATION PROGRESS

CANADA TOOK A DEFINITE STRIDE forward in aeronautical affairs when at Ottawa the Aviation League of Canada was definitely established, bringing all interests into one body for the promotion of aviation in all its branches in the Dominion. Delegates from all over Canada included representatives from McGill and Toronto Universities, of commercial aircraft manufacturing companies, and some of the Dominion's most famous airmen. The objects the league adopted were briefly: to ensure the fullest development of civil and commercial aviation in Canada; to encourage the establishment of the aircraft manufacturing industry in Canada; to encourage research, experiment, and education in the science of aeronautics; to support the provision and maintenance of an air force adequate to meet the requirements of defence; and to secure the co-operation of Canadian and other British interests

Meanwhile a good deal of interest has come to centre upon the future of the aerial mail and plans for expansion. The first Winter services have been operated satisfactorily and illustrate the possible revolution which may be wrought in the life of the remoter sections of the Dominion. Mail is being delivered by air to the Magdalen Islands in the St. Lawrence, which were formerly completely isolated after freeze-up in the gulf until the break-up in the Spring, the best the inhabitants received in the way of news being a weekly radio letter. Anticosti Island similarly is being successfully served by mail.

Plans are going forward for a steady expansion of air mail services. Tenders have been called for mail transmission by air this Summer between Father Point, Quebec and Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa, as a sequence to the successful experiments conducted last Fall in the aerial transport of mail from transatlantic steamships at their first point of contact with the land, about 200 miles from Quebec and 350 from Montreal. It is practically certain that a similar service will be conducted between Montreal and Toronto, while investigations are to be carried out farther West, where scouting work will be undertaken to determine the best route to Winnipeg. That such services will before long link Atlantic and Pacific was forecast recently by the Postmaster-General, who predicted the expeditious transport of mail by air between Montreal and Vancouver within a few years.

The stimulus to aviation is being felt in all phases. While the Dominion may be only commencing to make progress in certain branches, she continues to lead the world in the use of aeroplanes in topographical survey and fire patrol work, and this is being expanded. Commercial flying services continue to serve the mining industry by bringing the remoter developing camps into touch with civilization, the Northern Manitoba field having recently been added to those so served. The Western Canada Airways of Winnipeg recently ordered six new Fokker machines, bringing its fleet to twelve, and the Fairchild Aviation Limited, which designed the special planes for the air mail service on the North shore of the St. Lawrence, have recently licensed Canadian Vickers to build their monoplanes, more of which are said to be in use in commercial work in Canada than of any other type. This Summer, according to all indications, light areoplane clubs will be general throughout the Dominion with all the impetus this will impart to other phases of flying. The year 1928 will assuredly be one of progress for Canadian aviation.

NO MORE PRIVATE LIQUOR IMPORTS

MAKING GOOD ITS PROMISE TO THE provinces, the Mackenzie King Government, through the Minister of Justice, has introduced a bill in the House of Commons designed to prohibit the importation of liquor by any private individual in those provinces in which the system of government control and sale of liquor is in operation.

It will be recalled that upon three former occasions, mainly at the request of the Government of British Columbia, a similar measure has been approved by the House of Commons and thrown out by the Conservative majority in the Senate. This time, however, especially in view of the fact that only two out of the nine provinces of the Dominion now have prohibition laws, it may be assumed that the bill will meet with little or no opposition in either

With a law of this kind in force, and the export warehouses out of the liquor business, the operations of the bootlegger will be very considerably restricted. He still will be able to purchase his wares at the official vending establishments and sell them at a small profit; but he no longer will be in a position to obtain supplies from the export warehouse, either directly or indirectly, upon which no duty has

THE GIANTS OF SPACE

EEW PEOPLE KNOW THAT APPROXImately six per cent., or one in every eighteen, of the stars when viewed through one of our large telescopes is seen to be double. Certain of these double stars are known as eclipsing variables from the relationship of their orbits to the earth, and the most massive of these eclipsing systems, known as H.D. 1337, has been investigated recently at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Observatory Mountain here. The star was observed by an electric photometer in Germany during 1920, and an accurate determination of its changes of brightness was published. However, this complex curve could not be interpreted for want of precise information obtainable by means of the spectroscope. When the matter was taken in hand at the observatory near this city, further investigation brought to light an extraordinary system.

The following illustration may help the uninitiated to visualize this great star. If the earth were a 1-inch sphere much smaller than a golf ball the sun would be represented by a great sphere nine feet in diameter, filling an ordinary room. More than 1.300,000 earth-balls could then be thrown inside such a hollow globe and there would still be plenty of space between them. On this same scale the larger star of this interesting system would be 214 feet in diameter and more than 13,000 sun-spheres and seventeen billion earth splaces would be required to make up its tremendous volume.

Picture, then, these two gigantic globes of flaming gases, practically in contact and revolving about each other every three and a half days, whose orbital velocities exceed 150 miles per second and whose respective masses are thirty-six and thirty-four times that of the sun. The surfaces of these stars are at temperatures of 50,000 degrees Fahrenheit, about twenty times that of molten iron. This intrinsically high temperature combined with the enormous surfaces of the stars makes the system 28,000 times more luminous than the sun, and yet, so inconceivably remote is it, that the stars cannot be seen with the naked eye. Light, which travels at the prodigious velocity of 186,000 miles per second, and speeds us from the sun in eight and a half minutes, requires a journey of 10,000, years to come to us from this extraordinary double star.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Bitter complaints were heard at a recent session of Bitter compiants were heard at a recent season of the Trades and Labor Council at the custom of chauf-feurs and drivers of vehicles persisting in the habit of driving along the car track and thereby impeding traffic. Another cause of delay to street cars they said was the thoughtless way in which drivers parked their was the thoughtees way it wind arriver parked the cars on narrow streets, resulting in the holding up of traffic until the automobiles could be moved closer to the curbstones. That there is cause for these complaints is clearly apparent. Owing to the congestion of vehicular traffic of all kinds in the busy thoroughof vehicular traffic of all kinds in the busy thorough-fares, it should be the aim of all drivers to comply with the civic by-laws as strictly as possible and thus facili-tate traffic. For some time past the police department, in the hope of inducing drivers to be more observant of the "rules of the road," have been "admonishing" offenders, instead of ordering them to appear before the courts. The reason for this move is the the police desire to co-operate with drivers. It should be ap-preciated by drivers and result in marked improvement of conditions.

New arteries of traffic must certainly be devised, as the city is growing by leaps and bounds. Until the are opened every effort should be made by those us the roads to eliminate as far as humanly possible ritating and costly congestion.

M.P.'s Discuss Export Charges on Beer and Other Changes

Ottawa, April 11.—The bill giving effect to the sales tax changes announced in the budget was before the House of Commons in committee last night. Minor amendments were made.

Japan Government

Fights Extremists

Tokio, April 11—Communism apparently is beginning to take deep root in the Japanese Empire. Because of this the Government has begun a series of active steps to suppress agitators and to round up extremists. Dissolution of the Rornoto, an extreme political organization, as well as two other extremists bodies, has been ordered, as they are declared a menace. In connection with the recent arrest of many Communists, the procurator-general made the statement to-day that the predominant aspect of the whole saffair is the serious fact that Japan now is confronted by an unusually grave national difficulty, inasmuch as revolutionism is pretty well diffused.

The official opinion was that "the present attempt to undermine the foundations of the empire from within is more serious than any threat of an armed force from without."

Premier MacLean Says City Board Proper Body to Hear Charges

Vancouver, April 11.-Van Vancouver police commission and the Vancouver City Council, Premier Mac-Vancouver City Council, Premier MacLean declared here last night. The Provincial Government, he said, had no intention of taking any hand in the controversy unless it was asked to do so by the Police Commission and the City

it be necessary to consider the possibility, he emphasized.

Asked if he had received any word from Victoria as to an interview between the Attorney-General and Commissioner T. W. Pletcher, the Premier said-he understood Mr. Fletcher was in the capital, but he had heard

"As we see it," said the Premier, "the matter is one which should be settled by the Commission, which is authorized under an order-in-council to deal with just such cases. This is exactly what I explained to Mayor Taylor some time ago.

"We understand an effort is being made to involve the Government in the controversy, but we are not worrying about it."

The leaguers demand that immediately the political power in the country is transferred from the men to the women, all sex privileges, concessions with arise from them shall be rectified. As women are to dominate the Covernment in the controversy, but we are not worrying about it."

Noted Actor Supports Rev. Dr. Wilson's Plea For League of Nations

Six hundred members of the Women's Canadian Club filled the Empress ballroom to capacity yesterday afternoon to tender a welcome to Mr. Seymour Hicks, the noted British comedian, and his wife, Miss Ellaline Terriss, who were the guests of the club.

With them on the platform was Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., who, on behalf of Nations Society in Canada, appealed to the club to lend active support to the drive starting on April 17 for members in the League and workers to assist in the campaign. Dr. Wilson in his eloquent, address, reminded the women fair they were the natural peacemakers and the first to suffer in the event of war, and were accordingly the logical supporters of the League of Nations in its attempt to avert warfare. The club with its large membership could form the nucleus of a strong body-of-public opinion in support of the League, of the League, of the League of Nations in its attempt to avert warfare. opinion the League's work would prove abortive.

Mr. Seymour Hicks on rising to address the gathering warmly supplemented Dr. Wilson's advocacy of the League of Nations and offered the support of himself and his company in promoting the work of the League of Nations Society in Canada on their return trip. Then in lighter vein he reminded his audience that he was half a Canadian his great-grandmother and his grandmother both having been born in Halifax. He regaled the gathering with some interesting reminiscences concerning his travels, and humorously noted the number of greetings he had received on his present tour from people who "saw me on the stage as far back as 1843."

Miss Ellaline Terriss remained long enough to accept a bouquet of Spring flowers from the president, Mrs. Mc. Naughton, and to express her appreciation, with that of her husband-for the very cordial recention tendered to them in the league of the proposition tendered to the proposition to the stage of the proposition tendered to the proposition tendered

"What is true of art is true of life," Yance resumed placidly. "Every human action, of ye see, conveys unconsciously an impression either of genuineness or of spuriousness—of sincerty, or calculation. For example, two menat table eat in a similar way, handle their knives and forks in the same fashion; and apparently do the identical things. Although the sensitive spectator cannot put his finger on the points of difference, he none the less senses at once which man's breeding is genuine and instinctive and which man's is implicative and self-conscious."

He blew a wreath of smoke toward the ceiling and settled more deeply into his chair.

"Now, Markham, just what are the universally recognized features of a sordid crime of robbery and murder?.

That is to say, how knany actual crimes are technically perfect in their settings? None! And why? Simply because nothing actual in this life—nothing that is spontaneous and genuine—runs to accepted form in every detail. The law of chance and fallibility invariably steps in.

He made a slight indicative gesture.

"But regard this particular crime; look at it closely. What do you find? You will perceive that its mise-enseen has been staged, and its drama. The law of the stage and the second the knob..."

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK by Mary Blake

The Art of Second-Day

Why do women apologize for serving leftovers? I consider it rather an evidence of good management. Today's creamed potatoes placed in alternate layers with grated cheese in a baking dish, covered with crumbs and browned in the oven, will provide a delectable dish for tomorrow's luncheon. Mashed potatoes enveloped in a fluffy covering of equal quantities of Carnation Milk and heavy cream beaten together until stiff, into which is stirred grated cheese—and baked until the cheese is melted—makes a welcome change in the menu.

Cooking an extra quantity of peas, string beans or carrots for tomorrow's salad proves a great convenience. Rice, can be served first as a cereal, and later combined with cheese or made into croquettes,

To my way of thinking, however, there is nothing quite so delicious as the good old-fashioned rice pudding, cooked slowly for hours to bring out all the rich, creamy caramel flavor of the Carnation Milk in which it is baked. I'm giving the recipe for it, and I think you will agree that it is one of the most delightful recipes I'm offered you.

The Smooth Richness Carnation Dishes

It is indisputable that dishes made with Carnation Milk have a richness, a smooth creaminess, a fragile fineness of texture that even the best of bottled milk cannot equal. In the first place, Carnation is nothing but the finest of pure, fresh, whole milk, of uniformly high quality. It is evaporated to double richness, so that every drop has a double helping of enriching cream. Then it is sterilized for safekeeping, making it absolutely dependable, no matter what the weather.

Carnation Milk has another vital quality. It is "homogenized"—the cream globules broken up into minute particles and distributed throughout every drop of milk, imparting to foods an unusual smoothness and fineness of

Because of its double portion of cream, Carnation effects a big cooking economy, saving on butter-or cream in nearly every dish in which it is used, And because it is always dependably good there is no waste.

Use Carnation Milk for all four cooking. You'll find in it new convenience and economy. "My Hundred-Favorite Recipes"—the Carnation Cook Book—will give you many cooking suggestions. It is free. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Rice Pudding

2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups water, grated rind of ½ lemon, ½ teps, salt, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup rice. Combine washed rice with other ingredients; pour into buttered baking dish; place in pan of hot-water; bake in 300° oven 3 hours, serring several times during first hour to prevent settling.

Puddings of Greater Flavor

IF you've never made puddings with Carnation Milk, try one tomorrow. Its flavor and smoothness will be a revelation to And it will have extra food value, for Carnation is pure, whole milk evaporated to double richness. It is economical and convenient because it keeps and it saves on butter and cream.

Connecticut Scene Of Treasure Hunt

legend of buried treasure dating back to Revolutionary days has aroused the interest of Paul Reich of this city, who claims a chest supposed to contain $400,000 in gold is buffed on the farm of his brother, Otto. In Wilsonville, Conn., just across the Webster town line.

He declares historical research covering a period of three years furnishes proof the treasure was buried by American officers during a skirmish with British troops and Indians.

So convinced is Mr. Reich the treasure chest is on his brother's farm that he has advertised in a Worcester newspaper for a treasure locator.

The farm where the treasure is believed to be is known as the Terry place on the Indian trail near the Massachusetts-Connecticut state line.

Mr. Reich has enlisted the aid of the War and State Department, and claims he now has records that locate the treasure within a small area.

JURY IS TOLD OF K.K.K. MURDERS

At Pittsburgh Witness Says He Saw Seven Men Burned in Texas

Pittsburgh, Pa. April 11.—That he witnessed the burning alive of seven or eight men by Ku Klux Klansmen in Texas was the testimony given in federal court here yesterday afternoon by Ciarenos W. Ludlow, who was called as a witness in the Kian injunction as a witness in the Kian injunction suits.

Ludlow, now a resident of Pittsburgh, said he was a former member of the Dallas, Texas, Kian Lodge No. 56, and that he was personally acquainted with Imperial Wizard Hiram Evans.

He described the burning or a white man at Terrell, Texas.

He said the victim was tried by the Kian, was taken to an isolated spot, tarred, olled and then set aftire by a Kiansman, who applied a match. He said between 300 and 400 hooded Kiansmen were present at the time.

Ludlow said that at another time a man named Smith, alleged to have falled to support his family, was tried before Evans, who gedered that he be dealt with severely. He said Evans directed the tarring of the man.

Asked by the Kian counsel if this "was done by your local Kian." Ludlow replied: "Yes, but we got orders from Evans." NIGHT BIDERS

A sensational story of the organiza-tion of a band of "night riders" by the Ku Klux Klan to conduct a reign of terror in Ohlo, was told by J. R. Ram-sey of Dayton, who described himself as a former member of the riders. He said the night riders were organized "to burn churches and to carry out bombines and assassinations."

"to burn churches and to carry out bombings and assassinations."

Ramsey testified that a Klan chef in Ohio had issued orders to kill certain persons, and that in one instance a "Mr. Bronson" had been delegated to take a man to Bellaire and kill him, but Bronson had refusced to do so and brought him back alive.

MYSTERY MAN AGAIN

Chief of Detectives Harry O'Leary had nothing much to say. Beyond expressing a belief that this was probably the same mysterious marauder who has for the last year been operating periodically in Victoria and surrounding municipalities, the deputy chief would say nothing.

Chief of Police Syme of Oak Bay, who has come into closer touch with the unknown housebreaker, has something more to say of him. Following the robbing of the home of R. W. Fraeden, Gaudey again. Once Syme commenced work on the history of the burglar. He discovered two things: First, that the man seldom took anything of value except money, and secondly, that he always robbed houses which he had had under observation and where he thought the tenant or owner was absent. At least, a series of robberies here have brought to light these facts. Police merely guess that all were accomplished by the same man, or gang of men, and admit the possibility that a woman may be concerned in the work. Some time ago they were watching for a man and woman suspected of operating from an automobile, and who were believed to have victimised a number of home owners.

A warming note was sounded from headquarters to-day. It would be well, it said, to guard against this man or gang of men. Houses should be kept locked against prowlers and jewelry and money should be kept in a safe place.

FESTIVAL NOTES

Carl Denton, adjudicator of the instrumental classes, came well-nigh being absent at his duties yesterday. A hundred miles out of his home city, Portiand, Ore., his car in which he and his wife were the sole occupants "slipped," and for the time was of no use to the conductor, organist and violinist. He managed to catch the Sol Duc just leaving Sestile, and got here an hour only after the appointed opening hour of yesterday's morning session at Temple Hall.

Judging from the remarks of many people agreeable surprise has been expressed in the case of the public violin classes ensemble. It was not thought that so much had been accomplished in the short time since their inauguration by the present director about three years ago. The playing of the class last evening met with treendous applause. Their win of the Little and Taylor Challenge Shield was seemingly a popular one.

Another popular and well-deserved session at Temple Hall.

Herbert Austin Fricker, M.A., Mus. Bec., Mus. Doc., F.R.C.O., conductor of the famous Toronto Mendelssohn thoir, since coming to Canada from London, England, in 1917, has done such glorious work as conductor and organ rectalist, and as adjudicator, is creating a most favorable impression. His remarks are followed and listened to with keen interest. Particularly instructive and interesting are they slike to grown ups and the music student. In the course of his remarks yesterday afternoon while adjudicating the boys vocal solo class, an especially keen competition, he said. "There should be no difficulty for providing singers here in this, the delightful and rarified air of a beautifully situated city." It is just the place that should produce excellent volces." He was already converted from his present experience here that Victoria has many fine vocal or grans possessed by some very talented young people. He pointed to the wrong and singular utterances and use of the "R's" in singing, that seemed peculiar to certain districts of Canada. "This is not so obviaus here by any means," he said, "and in Toronto's singing circles it is seldom heard. To say the least," he continued, "it is not at all fascing atting and it interferes with tone production. He advised all singers before singing to give a "wwn, as "t relaxes the throat wonderfully."

At the evening session during the vocal duets, Dr. Fricker said: "Out of the said, "and in Toronto's singing circles the said, and in Toronto's singing circles the said and the said and said the said that the same that th

Another popular and well-deserved win was that of Adele Bucklin, one of the talented and musical daughters of United States consul, Mr. Bucklin. She won by one point over Eleanor Lehman a very gifted and excellent young violinist from Aberdeen, Wash. Betty Sledge, too, shows-much promise, and Victoria should hear much of these young ladies. Chris. Miller also is coming along splendidly.

Nation-wide Speculation

Speculation on the future prospects of industries and the natural resources of the country has become nation wide and this condition has many elements of danger. In the event of a depression, or from some unforeseen cause, industry slows up and mines and other resources do not start producing it will mean that your Capital may be tied ap and bring you no return for a period of years.

So we maintain that before indulging in any speculative investments, and this includes some bonds and preferred stocks, you should have a firm foundation of securities that, no matter what eventuality comes up they will continue to yield an income that in no way will be curtailed,

If your investments are on this sound basis, intelligent speculation may be indulged in, but even so only in stocks that have a good record of past performance and with every prospect of increasing earnings and enhanced values for the future.

Sensational Advances Stagger Imagination; General Motors' Gain in Three Months Exceeds Value of U.S. Steel Stock and Is Twice as Great as Value of 1928 Wheat Crop; Wealthy Man Is Trapped

By RICHARD SPILLANE

The wild orgy of trading in the stock market recently that has the most interesting, the least understood and probably the most vitally important news story of to-day. In the following article Richard Spillane, noted financial writer, describes the extent to which the trading

EW YORK, April 9.—Some things in connection with the present stock market are enough to stagger the imagination. There has been an advance in the appraised value of some of the leading issues beyond anything in the history of investments or speculation.

Take General Motors, for example. Its gain from lowest to highest within the present year has been sixty-nine points. As it has 17,400,000 shares of common stock outstanding, that would mean, in market appraisement, an crease in value of $1,200,600,000.

Increase in value of $1.200.600,000.

As the United States Steel Corporation, once the most gigantic of all corporations, has only 7.116.235 shares outstanding and sells around 148. It would appear that the increase in market value alone of General Motors in the present year is greater than the market value of the total atock issued of United States Steel.

TWICE VALUE OF WHEAT

Or, to measure the enhancement in value of General Motors by another yardstick, consider the grain crop—that of wheat, for example. At the price of wheat to-day, the growers of that great essential to our life will get about of wheat to-day, the growers of that great essential to our life will get about $700,000,000 for their crop, or a little more than half of the rise in value of General Motors in three months.

Consider cotton. The crop approximates 13,000,000 bales. The average price to the grower has been less than eighteen cents per pound—$90 a bale. What is the explanation? How is it that stocks boomed when business obviously is not holding good and an unusually large unemployment is reported East and West? Where does all the buying come from? How much of it is professional and how much comes from the small fry?

No one has the means or the qualification, so far as we know, for getting accurate figures as to the percentage of stock exchange business that is moressional, and what proportion is what

Many of the oil, steel and motor companies sell their stock to their workers at a price below the mar-ket appraisement and on the "casy payment" plan. SHARP SWINGS LIKELY MARGIN, TRADERS WARNED

New York, April 11.—The World says regarding the high stock market situation:

"With public speculation somewhat below its created last week, and stock prices' holding up none too firmly, leading brokers are almost unanimous in ascriding a conservative note of warning against top-heavy marginal speculation.

"In the great majority of the market letters sent but by the commission from the financial houses in order so that, should a bit of a speculative blow develop, the damage would be minimized. "More important, the best informed bankers in the financial district urge the speculatively inclined to walk with caution. Easy money has played a principal part in the recent wild advance.

The National City Bank points out in its current bulletin, however, that credit supplies are not unlimited, and roless a question whether the Federal Reserve Banks can regard with favor use of their facilities for further expansion of stock market loans.

"This publications are natural, making it quite possible for a marginal trader to be wiped out even in a stock of sound merit—a stock which, if owned outrieh, would prove profitable of words of cuttine. The World reveals that brokers are berton of wine as claim to word of cuttine, would prove a period of time.

"The World reveals that brokers are berton when the rown present cutting the subject to words of caution. For their own present cutting the subject of sound merit—a stock which, if owned outrieh, would prove a period of time.

main conclusions are apparently warranted by the recent course of events in the security market.

"First, that marginal accounts must be an such good shape that neither commission houses nor their customers are in the least alarmed as to the possible dangers in the speculative situation. And secondly, that both investors and buyers of stocks for speculation are so thoroughly convinced as to the merits of their holdings and their potentiality for further advance as to make them unwilling to sell even at very substantial profits.

"Encouraged by happenings during the past two years in such instances as many other issues of like calibre, speculation for the long puil has largely

This is all the more surprising because Wall Street is like a mighty sew. Ing circle for gossip and, usually, as extravagant in its statements.

2-Amalgamated Mines Limited has been formed by a number of local men for the purpose of building an organization with sufficient financial strength, managing and engineering ability to develop properties and bring them to the shipping stage, retaining control of the same in the Province of British Columbia.

3-The strong financial position of Amalgamated Mines Limited will enable it to acquire and operate other properties on particularly advantageous terms. It is worthy of note that 80 per cent. of the entire share capitalization is in reserve for this purpose, only 20 per cent. going to the vendors, of which the company has acquired valuable assets in the form of outstanding mining properties.

4-The company already holds control of the HYDER LEAD MINES, which are situated on the west fork of Texas Creek, Salmon River area, Portland Canal district, Alaska. This property has been investigated and reported on by R. G. Mellin, a well-known mining engineer, and from the amount of development work done it gives great promise and should by itself carry the entire capitalization of the company when it is developed to a shipping point.

5-Amalgamated Mines Limited (N.P.L.) being founded on sound financial lines, assures success from the outset, and it is reasonable to expect that it will become one of the big Mining Corporations of Canada. The opportunity to share in the development of good properties, capably managed and amply financed, commends itself to discriminating investors,

6-Considering the above facts, we have no hesitation in recommending the purchase of this stock at 50c a share.

Hudson Bay Route To Solve Canada's Problem, He Thinks

Montreal, April 11.—Favorable en-orsation of the Hudson Bay route as given here to-day by Capt. Joseph Bernler, veteran Arctic explorer, in n address before a local service club. be said, which Montreal and the Dominion as a whole would have to face in future years. As the population of the country grew and the trade of Canda faincreased, the port of Montreal was bound to become more and more congested and therefore Canada faust look to Hudson Bay to provide another entrance and outlet. Coupled with this problem, he remarked that the waters of the St. Lawrence were receding, and he felt that if the large liners were going to be able to dock at Montreal there must be a damining of the waters of the river to maintain the necessary level.

(By Howard R. Garis)

Very quiet and still it was in the Bollow Stump School that rainy day, after Uncle Wiggily had drawn on the blackboard the picture of four triangles, with which he had asked the animal boys and girls to make a square. The pupils were so busy trying to think of a way to do the puzzle that they forgot to whisper or jump about.

"Well, can't any of you do that brick?" asked Mr. Longears after a while, with a Swrinkle of his pink nose. He had come to school in the rain, with Baby Bunty and his "bumberell," as the little orphan rabbit girl called an umbrella. But the Lady Mouse Feacher had not come to school because she was ill, and the children were cutting up when Mr. Longears arrived. "Who can do the puzzle" asked the bunny gentleman.

Jackle Bow Wow raised his paw and barked:
"I, think I can do it, Unkle

"How would you do it, Jackie?"

"I would put the four triangles together, with the points marked by the A letters in the centre, and that would make a square," said the puppy dog.

"Correct!" exclaimed Mr. Longears.
"Correct!" exclaimed Mr. Longears.
"That is the way to do the puzzle.
And now that you are quiet we shall go on with the lessons."

"Why, what's the matter?" asked Uncie Wiggily in surprise.

Luiu raised one wing, which meant she wanted to quack.

"What is it, Luiu?" asked Uncie Wiggily, who was now, for a time, the teacher in the Hollow Stump School, since Miss Mouse had not come.

"Please, Uncle Wiggily." Luiu quacked. "I think you ought not to make us study our regular lessons. Teacher hasn't come and we ought to have a holiday. We don't want to study!"

"That's right!" chattered Billie Bushytall, the squirrel boy. "No lessons for us!"

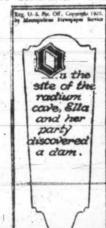

And Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow began to bark, Jimmie Wibblewobbis, the duck, Began to quack, while, Chaffle, the rooster boy, began to crow! And they called out.

"We don't want to study! We don't want to study! No lessons to-day!"

"Dear me! This is quite surprising!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I am ashamed of you boys and girls not wanting to study just because the Lady Mouse Teacher isn't here! I thought you loved me!"

WAR TREATED FROM NEW VIEWPOINT IN "ROSES OF PICARDY"

Although the latest Gaumont British production bears the title of the most amous of war-time ballads, the story was suggested by R. H. The former book won the Hawthorn-ten prize of 1924, and both have been epeatedly reprinted and remain vivid memories in the minds of thousands it readers.

Clothes."

Adapted from the French of A. Picard and Y. Mirande by Seymour Hicks himself, this is a delightful play, full of pathos and comedy, with dramatic moments. There is no intrigue, but the interest is always sustained.

It is just a leaf out of the life story of Lucien Comte D'Artois (Sermour Hicks), a good fellow, who, to drown a private sorrow, leads a gay life in Paris until his means are exhausted. Paris until his means are exhausted.

Lucien is discovered asleep under the bedciothes at 9 o'clock in the morning, after what has evidently been a hectic night out, and is unconventionally awakened by Foxtrot, a gay young bird of passage, who also happens to be there, though Lucien has no memory of her coming.

The brokers are in possession and proceed to strip his flat, but under law are compelled to leave him one med, one chair and one suit of ciothes. He chooses his dress suit, because he cannot go out to dine without it.

Lucien, in this moment of depression, declares that he loves his wife so much that, as she does not care for him, he has never forced him-self upon her, but has come to Paris to live a life he hates.

Inve a life he hates.

The vicissitudes of Lucien, and how ultimately he and Germaine, his wife, come together again must be seen in order that this delightfully human play may be properly appreciated and understood.
